

As the search for a missing hiker continues in the Mount Jefferson Wilderness, a 6-member crew from the Columbia County Sheriff's Search and Rescue team has joined the effort.

Ronald Ohm, 52, of Portland was hiking with two others last Thursday when he decided to stay behind to take photos while his companions went ahead to start a camp on Russell Lake about a mile north of Mount Jefferson.

Ohm never arrived at the camp. His friends called for help Friday evening.

CC

SO SAR Camp Near Jefferson Wilderness

Last night, Sheriff Jeff Dickerson dispatched Undersheriff Andy Moyer and a crew of 5 volunteer search team members to help in the expanded effort to find Mr. Ohm. "We want to do what we can to send trained search and rescue team members into the area to assist with this search," he said.

Volunteer team members from Columbia County include: Terry Martin, 57, St. Helens; Michelle Jenkins, 31, Vernonia; Joe Jenkins, 34, Vernonia; Steve Reddington, 53, Kelso, Wash.; and, Al Bernal, 46, Scappoose.

The team brought relief to teams that had been searching to no avail since the weekend. The sheriff expects the team to return Wednesday.

□

□□

Sheriff Sends SAR Members to Jefferson Wilderness to Aid in Search Efforts

Tuesday, 14 August 2012 09:47 - Last Updated Tuesday, 14 August 2012 10:39

Terry Martin

Michelle Jenkins □ □ □ □ □ □ □ □ □ □ □ □ Joe Jenkis

Sheriff Sends SAR Members to Jefferson Wilderness to Aid in Search Efforts

Tuesday, 14 August 2012 09:47 - Last Updated Tuesday, 14 August 2012 10:39

Al Bernal Steve Reddington